Profile of the Library

Establishment of the College library

The College Library was established along-with the establishment of the college in 1972 in order to meet the academic and research needs of the teachers and the students. The college Library provides books, journals, magazines as well as current information on various topics to fulfill the need of the academic communities. It has built up a rich collection on all branches of Science, Arts and Commerce. It is a member of N-LIST Consortium for on line subscription of e-books & e-journals. It also possesses well equipped air-conditioned reading rooms both for the teachers and the students separately.

Computerization of Central Library

- ❖ Initially College library automation journey was started in the year 2011. That time we installed SOUL 2.0 (limited version) software. Computerized circulation was started on 23.07.2012. Later we have shifted from SOUL to Koha open source software in 2018.
- ❖ Operations have been computerized using Koha open source software. Version of the Software is 18.05.03. Library operation is partially automated. Presently, we are using Catalogue & Circulation module.
- ❖ Users can access data of all libraries over the OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue).

- ❖ OPAC of the central libraries accessible on campus at <http://192.168.2.16:8000/cgi-bin/koha/opac-main.pl>
- ❖ Circulation services of all Libraries are computerized and operational with bar-code System.
- ❖ 03 Computer Terminals available for internet and OPAC facility for users.

Library as Learning Resource

- ❖ Library has open access to all the users. OPAC and our stack staff is available to help the user in searching their required material.
- ❖ Three (03) computers with internet connection are available for the students and two systems available for the staff.
- ❖ The books generally purchased in the library on demand of its users. Time to time feedback is taken by the library from its users for improvement of the library.
- ❖ Current Journals and books are displayed on rack.
- ❖ Library has installed Koha Software
- ❖ .Library has a small archive section of rare books. Users may consult them on demand.
- ❖ The library is an open access system. So students have to keep their bags (excluding purse & mobile) in the baggage counter.
- ❖ Every student must put his/her signature in the student's attendance register for every access to the library.
- ❖ Library is fully equipped with CCTV
- ❖ Internet facility and access of e-journals are available for full time to the users of library. INFLIBNET N-LIST databases are used by the users of the library.
- ❖ Library has an advisory and working library committee for the planning, distribution of funds etc.

The main fork in the path in Western philosophy which Tract (2013) identifies is that between deontological and teleological ethics.

The word deontological is derived from the Greek word deon, meaning 'duty'. It is concerned with right action - in other words, with doing the right thing simply because it is the right thing to do. Deontological theories focus on whether ethical decisions per se are right or wrong, regardless of the consequences or intentions of those ethical decisions.

The word teleological is derived from two Greek words: telos, which means 'purpose' or 'goal'; and logos, which refers to 'science' or 'study'. It is concerned with being good - in other words, with being a good person with good intentions. Therefore, in contrast to deontological ethics, the teleological ethical traditions concentrate on the purpose of - or the intention behind - human actions. The focus of teleological ethical theories is on what the goal of a
