SESSION 2023-24

PROGRAM OUTCOME (POs)

The students who complete three years of full-time study of an undergraduate program in English will be awarded a Bachelor's Degree. Some of the desirable learning outcomes which a student should be able to demonstrate on completion of Bachelor's Degree will include the following:

PO1. Acquire analytical and critical thinking skills to better comprehend social, cultural, political, and economic processes and to effectively connect between the local, regional and the global.

PO2. Comprehend and integrate a multiplicity of perspectives into an integrated whole leading towards holistic development.

PO3. Be able to describe and compare the roles, impacts and ethical implications of ideas, texts, social movements and contemporary situations.

PO4. Become capable of reflective thinking and implement new ideas and thoughts for both individual and collective social upliftment and change.

PO5. Produce graduates with a foundation in professional ethics who will actively seek to positively impact their profession, community, and society.

PROGRAM SPECIFIC OUTCOME (PSOs)

English Literature courses in the Department of English expose students to a wide range of writing from British, American and Indian tradition and culture and theory. It helps students explore how writers use the creative resources of language - in fiction, poetry, non-fiction prose, drama and other genres - to explore the entire range of human experience. Students are expected to strive, to be imaginative, rhetorically dexterous, and technically proficient and as a result, to gain a deeper insight into life. UG syllabus at Chandidas Mahavidyalaya will help students build skills of analytical and interpretive argument, and become careful and critical readers. They will learn the use of language as a means of creative expression, will make them effective thinkers and communicators — qualities which are crucial for choosing careers in our information-intensive society.

Specific learning outcomes for English courses include the following:

Reading: Students will gain awareness about the best literary traditions of the world. By learning how others live and handle their lives, one becomes connected with the world in a way we might not otherwise experience. They can gain courage and strength by living vicariously through well-developed characters. Through reading students will have an awareness for varied perspectives. This will also expand their range of experience and in the process they will learn to be more empathetic toward the plight of others.

Awareness about Culture and History: Students gain an understanding of the relations between culture, history and texts. They learn to use texts as a gateway to various cultural traditions and interpret them in their historical contexts.

Gaining of Critical Insight: With the help of their knowledge of various critical theories it is expected that they will be able to construct their own meaning about the reality and his historical situations.

Issue of Sexuality and Gender: Literature course teaches a student to believe that one's own sense of identity is not enough to persuade the rest of the world to agree. Human beings are no longer bound by such binary concepts as male-female or masculine-feminine. They will learn that sex is a biological concept based on biological characteristics, whereas gender deals with personal, societal and cultural perceptions of sexuality.

Interdisciplinary Methods: Students should be able to understand the process of communicating and interpreting human experiences through literary representation using historical contexts and disciplinary methodologies.

Self-directed and Lifelong Learning: The course will facilitate access to sources of information and students will be able to process information on a need to use basis, and constantly upgrade their knowledge and skills.

Use of International language: Graduates of English literature program have skills that are highly valued by many types of employers, including critical thinking skills and strong writing skills which make them employable in a wider range of professions, including teaching and publishing, script writing, staged directions/theatricals, translations, journalism, media productions, documenting, reporting and producing documentaries.
