

Department of Political Science
Programme Outcome
Under CBCS-2022-2023

Chandidas Mahavidyalaya
Khujutipara, Birbhum
www.chandidasmahavidyalaya.ac.in

Sudhansu Singh Roy

Head
Department of Political Science
Chandidas Mahavidyalaya
Khujutipara, Birbhum, W.B

Programme Outcome-2022

Political Science is a dynamic discipline aspiring to impart knowledge on various contemporary issues of politics - local, national and global. Political ideas and ideologies are very important pillars of this discipline. Issues like rights, equality, justice, liberty and their inter-relationship, nationalism, internationalism, secular politics acquire primacy in it. Ideologies like Marxism, liberalism, Gandhism, Fascism, feminism, ecologism, even communalism also occupy important positions in this subject. Students get ample opportunity to study pioneers in this field -both Indian and Western- like Plato, Aristotle, Bodin, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Laski, Mill, Karl Marx, Kautilya, Rammohan Roy, Bankim, Vivekananda, Ambedkar, Gandhi, Rabindranath Tagore. Public administration and local self government, good governance - are given due importance. Besides, the nature of state and democracy, social movements from different schools are discussed at length.

International institutions and issues find an important position in this course. UNO, Regional organizations like SAARC, ASEAN, NATO -composition and functions, global world order, terrorism, war, peace-keeping process, international institutions like IMF, World Bank, World Trade Organization -their power and functions get prominence in this discipline. Indian foreign policy and her relations with the neighboring countries are taught.

Moreover, for the budding scholars research methodology is a handy topic. They are given exposure on preparing PhD thesis and research methods.

Political Science is a dynamic discipline aspiring to impart knowledge on various contemporary issues of politics - local, national and global. Political ideas and ideologies are very important pillars of this discipline. Issues like rights, equality, justice, liberty and their inter-relationship, nationalism, internationalism, secular politics acquire primacy in it. Ideologies like Marxism, liberalism, Gandhism, Fascism, feminism, ecologism, even communalism also occupy important positions in this subject. Students get ample opportunity to study pioneers in this field -both Indian and Western- like Plato, Aristotle, Bodin, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Laski, Mill, Karl Marx, Kautilya, Rammohan Roy, Bankim, Vivekananda, Ambedkar, Gandhi, Rabindranath Tagore. Constitutional systems of India are given due importance. Besides, electoral practices and election commission of India is also imparted to the students.

Sulthans Singha Roy

Head
Department of Political Science
Chandides Mahavidyalaya
Khujutpara, Birbhum, W.B

Globalization, global world order, terrorism, war, peace-keeping process, international institutions like IMF, World Bank, World Trade Organization -their power and functions get prominence in this discipline. Indian foreign policy and her relations with the neighboring countries are taught.

Moreover, the students will get to know human rights, public policy measures, political theories in comparison etc.

They will be prepared for the job market so that after the completion of their courses they will get jobs easily as India suffers from a skilled workforce.

Political Science rolls out before the students the opportunity of learning the nuances of local, national and global politics, theoretical frameworks to understand the reality and empower them with the concepts of Human rights, environmentalism, gender and racial injustice, economic exploitation, communalism, democracy etc.

Subhas Singh Roy
Head
Department of Political Science
Chandrasekhar Mahavidyalaya
Khujulipara, Birbhum, W.B

Department of Political Science
Programme Specific Outcome
Under CBCS-2022-2023

Chandidas Mahavidyalaya

Khujutipara, Birbhum

www.chandidasmahavidyalaya.ac.in

Department of Political Science

Chandidas Mahavidyalaya
Khujutpara, Birbhum

COURSE SPECIFIC OUTCOME

Political Science (General)

SEMESTER-I

CC-1A: WESTERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

This paper consists of political thinking of various western thinkers on political philosophy. After completion of this paper the students will learn about different thinking of various thinkers on different issues of political philosophy. The students will also learn the periodical division of western political thought. For example, early political thought, medieval political thought and modern political thought. The students also learn which thinker appears when and what was the then political condition or background that propelled the thinkers to think.

SEMESTER-II

CC-1B : POLITICAL THEORY

This paper consists of various theories on politics. After completion of this paper the students will learn when political theory emerged, when it got its renowned position, when it declined and when political theory was revived. Apart from this, students learn about different approaches on politics, different theories of sovereignty, different political concepts-like Liberty, equality and justice, different theories on states and also about political ideologies and end of ideology.

SEMESTER-III

CC-1C: INDIAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

This paper consists of political thinking of various Indian thinkers on political philosophy. After completion of this paper the students will learn about different thinking of different thinkers on political philosophy. The students will also learn the periodical division of Indian political thought. For example, early political thought, medieval political thought and modern political thought. The students also learn which thinker appears when and what was the political condition or background that propelled the thinkers to think.

SEC-1 :ELECTORAL PRACTICES AND PROCEDURES

This paper provided huge knowledge to understand electoral processes and practices for the students. As a citizen, they understand the value of voting and voting behavior, role and functions of election commissioner of the state and union. And they also understand how the Union and State Government are formed by the electoral process .

Subhas Singh Roy

Head
Department of Political Science
Chandidas Mahavidyalaya
Khujutpara, Birbhum, W.B

COURSE SPECIFIC OUTCOME

Political Science (General)

SEMESTER-IV

CC-1D: INDIAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

This paper is about Indian government and politics. After completion of this paper the students will learn about the constitutional development and making of the Indian constitution. Apart from that, the students learn how many fundamental rights and duties are there. Not only this but also, learn on centre state relationship on legislative, administrative and financial, on directive principles of state policy, on union legislature, on union executive, on union judiciary. Apart from this, the students learn about party system, coalition government and on election commission

SEC-2 : ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS

Today the environment faces various challenges. This paper will make students aware of major challenges of the environment, various environmental policies taken by the world Government and national governments. Best point is the topic of how to save the environment. Students also know about various environmental movements and the role of government in sustainable development. They will learn the concepts of green governance whose main motto is how to return the priority of the earth. This topic is very helpful for the students to be conscious of the environment.

SEMESTER-V

DSE-1A: SELECT COMPARATIVE POLITICAL THEORIES

This paper is about select comparative political theories. After completion of this paper the students will learn to compare the Western and Indian political theory. Apart from this, they learn differently on the political thinking of a few Indian thinkers, such as, Kautilya on state, Tilak and Gandhi on swaraj, Ambedkar on social justice and Nehru and Jayprakash Narayan on democracy. Further they learn differently on the political thinking of few Western thinkers, such as Aristotle on citizenship, Locke on rights, Rousseau on inequality and J.S. Mill on Liberty.

SEC-3 : DEMOCRATIC AWARENESS THROUGH LEGAL LITERACY

This paper is about democratic awareness through legal literacy. After completion of this paper the students will learn about fundamental rights and duties and other constitutional rights. They also know different laws relating to dowry system, sexual harassment and violence against women. Further, they learn about anti terrorist law and about various system courts, tribunals, Juvenile courts, mahila courts and their jurisdiction in India. Apart from this they know about alternative dispute mechanisms like lok adalats and non-formal mechanisms.

Subhas Singh Roy

Head
Department of Political Science
Chandidas Mahavidyalaya
Khujutipara, Birbhum, W.B

COURSE SPECIFIC OUTCOME

Political Science (General)

SEMESTER-V

GE-1 (Generic Elective) (FOR THE STUDENTS OF OTHER DISCIPLINES)
INDIAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

This paper consists of political thinking of various Indian thinkers on political philosophy. After completion of this paper the students will learn about different thinking of different thinkers on political philosophy. The students will also learn the periodical division of Indian political thought. For example, early political thought, mediaeval political thought and modern political thought. The students also learn which thinker appears when and what was the political condition or background that propelled the thinkers to think.

SEMESTER- VI

DSE -1B: UNDERSTANDING GLOBALIZATION

This paper is about understanding globalization. After completion of this paper the students will know the meaning and debate of globalization. Further they know about the impact of globalization on the Indian economy, globalization and emergence of terrorism, globalization and new international world order and also know concepts of globalization and localisation and impact of globalization on various cultures throughout the world.

SEC-4 - HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION

This is a very important paper for all the students. This paper provides various knowledge of human rights. At the end of the paper students understand the background of human rights, human rights movement, terrorism and human rights. Apart from that students also understand the function of the human rights commission and the civil role of human beings to save and protect human rights.

GE - 2 : INDIAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS
(FOR THE STUDENTS OF OTHER DISCIPLINES)

This paper is about Indian government and politics. After completion of this paper the students will learn about the constitutional development and making of the Indian constitution. Apart from that, the students learn how many fundamental rights and duties are there. Not only this but also, learn on centre state relationship on legislative, administrative and financial, on directive principles of state policy, on union legislature, on union executive, on union judiciary. Apart from this, the students learn about party system, coalition government and on election commission.

Subhas Singh Roy
Head
Department of Political Science
Chandidee Mahavidyalaya
Khujulipara, Birbhum, W.B