Five Day Faculty Development Programme

On
Research Promotion

Academic improvement of the faculty members is a continuous process and it enhances the performance of the individual and the institution. Research occupies the central position of the faculty members' improvement. In the research activities a faculty member needs to do a lot more things like paper publications, pursuing research, participation in workshops and seminars, different courses, paper presentation, preparing research projects etc.

IQAC resolved to motivate the faculty members to engage in research activities; hence a five-day workshop is planned.

Report

Faculty Development Programme

Topic- Research Promotion

Date- 07.03.2022- 11.03.2022

Venue- Vivekananda Seminar Hall, Chandidas Mahavidyalaya

Academic improvement of the faculty members is a continuous process and it enhances the performance of the individual and the institution. Research occupies the central position of the faculty members' improvement. In the research activities a faculty member needs to do a lot more things like paper publications, pursuing research, participation in workshops and seminars, different courses, paper presentation, preparing research projects etc.

IQAC organized to motivate the faculty members to engage in research activities from 07.03.2022 to 11.03.2022.

Total number of participants: 38

Duration: 05 days

Date: 07.03.2022 -11.03.2022

Time: 2.00 PM- 3.15 PM

Resource persons: Faculty members of the institution

Outcome:

The workshop was structured to promote research culture among the faculty members as research occupies a central position within the higher educational institution. To motivate the faculties, a workshop was needed for them. The five days workshop deliberated upon various issues and expected outcomes are as follows:

- Applying for research projects to various funding agencies
- Writing research articles
- Issues of ethics and plagiarism
- Bibliographic references and citation styles
- Accessing to online resources
- Rules and regulations of pursuing PhD

Dr. Sk. Ataur Rahaman extended thanks to all for participating in this programme.

Participants thanked the IQAC for organizing such a type of workshop.
